

Drops and Ointments

Topical Preparations

Spot-on preparations make our flea, parasite and worming preparations much easier to administer. It is important that these products make contact with the skin - not just the fur - in order to be viable.

1. Read the instructions first.
2. Gently restrain your cat - a second person or blanket wrap may assist.
3. Part the fur on the back of your cat's neck (between the shoulders) so you can see the skin clearly.
4. Apply the product onto the skin itself.

Note: Never use dog flea preparations on cats - this can be fatal.

Administering Ear Drops

1. Hold your cat firmly but gently. A second person or blanket wrap may assist.

2. Hold the head and ear in your hands and tilt the head a little to one side so that the medicated ear is uppermost.

3. Squeeze the required number of drops into the ear opening. Don't let the cat shake its head.

4. Massage the base of the ear to distribute the drops within the canal.

Giving Eye Drops or Ointment

1. Hold your cat firmly but gently - A second person or blanket wrap may assist.

2. Hold your cat's head in your hands, tilting the head upwards.

3. Open the eyelids gently on one side with a thumb and finger.

4. Place a few drops or a line of ointment on the surface (cornea) of the eye (as directed by the vet).

5. Close the eyelids and massage gently to spread the medication evenly.
